PEACEPOINT

"I agree with you perfectly in your disapprobation of war. 'Abstracted from the inhumanity of it, I think it wrong in point of human providence, for whatever advantage one nation would obtain from another, whether it be part of their territory, the liberty of commerce with them, free passage to their rivers, etc., etc., it would be cheaper to purchase such advantages with ready money than to pay the expense by acquiring it by war.'"—Benjamin Franklin, in a letter to his sister, September 20, 1783.

Miss Margaret Patterson was down from Calgary the early part of the week on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Patterson. She was accompanied by Miss Jean Patterson, of Calgary.

Rev. A. E. Larke was formally inducted as pastor of Trinity United Church at Macleod on Thursday evening last, with Revs. J. M. Pritchard, of Lethbridge, and Walter Little, of Iron Springs, officiating. The address to the congregation was delivered by Rev. R. Magowan, of Pincher Creek. During the induction service, a beautiful bible was presented to the congregation by a group of C.G.T. girls.

Dating from June 17, the 8 per cent sales tax on lumber for building purposes has been removed by the Dominion government. This also applies to certain building hardware. Manufacturers of building materials have been paying sales tax to the amount of several hundred dollars per month. The removal of the tax will prove a great stimulus to those contemplating building, as this reduction will be passed on from the producer to the consumer.

GENERAL MOTORS SLOGAN CONTEST PRIZES AWARDED

Oshawa, Ont., June 30.—The eagerly awaited results of the judging in the western region of the General Motors "Safety Slogan Contest," involving three new motor vehicles and seventeen cash prizes up to $300, were announced today.

Throughout the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia are distributed the remaining seventeen cash prizes.

All the awards are based on the highway "Safety Slogans" submitted by the contestants in the four western provinces during the six weeks ending May 31st.

MADE FORTUNE OUT OF OLD NEWSPAPERS

Abraham Liphman, who went to New York as a boy from Russia and grew up to have more interest in old newspapers than in new ones, died recently at the age of 63.

He founded the Liphman Paper Company, that marketed waste paper of the New York newspapers abroad for more than twenty years. For several years he did a gross annual business of $1,000,000. He exported the over-issue copies of the newspapers to China, Japan, India, Java and South Africa, for wrapping purposes and for partitions in bamboo houses. About thirty per cent of the paper was sold for re-manufacture into newspaper.

The marriage of Miss Catherine, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Duncan, of the Greenhill hotel, to Mr. Norman M. Anderson, of Vancouver, was solemnized by Rev. A. E. Larke on Sunday, June 26th.

Mrs. G. G. Coote, of Nanton, wife of the former M.P. for this federal constituency, was injured in an automobile collision in Calgary on Saturday last. The car driven by Mr. Coote collided with a truck, which in turn crashed into a wagon, injuring the teamster, M. Jones.

Rev. and Mrs. E. B. Arrol and children arrived by car Friday evening from Bon Accord. Mr. Arrol entered upon his duties as pastor of the United church on Sunday, and at the evening service was greeted by a large congregation. In a vote of the congregation, following the service, it was decided to continue the Sunday evening services throughout the summer months.

R. F. Arnett, managing director of the Alonette Peat Products Ltd., British Columbia, is in Newfoundland at the invitation of the Commission of Government, where he will advise the government as to the commercial possibilities of this product. It's probably Newfoundland's first attempt at consulting an expert, but prospects for results are far greater than could ever be expected from the brand of experts invited into Alberta during the past three years.

As part of the big 40th anniversary celebration programme at Fernie, a cardboard frame house, specially built, was set on fire, and the antics of the Bingville Volunteer Fire Brigade of 1898 to extinguish the flames set the big crowd into hilarious laughter. Following this, the modern fire brigade appeared on the scene and a water battle between the originals and the moderns ensued. The big parade included the Fernie prize band, floats, decorated cars and bicycles, mounted horses, costumed individuals, old timers and citizens in general. A big programme of sports, etc., filled the two-day festivity.

DOMINION DAY SPORTS DAMPENED BY RAIN

Although Dominion Day opened up with every prospect for a beautiful day, a sudden downpour of rain at about 3 p.m. put an end to the festivities and caused an adjournment of the sports programme to Sunday, when the programme was completed and the balance of the awards made.

Luckily, however, First Aid and Mine Rescue teams competing managed to complete their work, though under difficulties, owing to the extreme heat around noon and the drenching rain later in the day.

Three men were killed by a blast in the Michel mine on Tuesday at noon, thought to have been caused by lighting conducted into the 3900-foot level of the workings by steel rails. The dead are Edward Morrison, fireboss; William Cartwright, fireboss, and John Phillips, pipe fitter. Eleven others in the mine at the time of the blast came out alive and uninjured. Less than a year ago, fire destroyed the tipple and surface workings of the mine.

A Livelier Education

While considerable strides have been made in recent years towards the goal of a more attractive educational program for the children of both public and high schools, experimentation shows that further steps can yet be taken before the people and educational authorities of this country can proclaim that the ultimate has been reached.

It is a fine quon that the more attractive school curricula can be made, the greater the interest that can be secured and, ergo, the greater the interest, the more productive will be the results.

The older generation can well remember the days when history was largely comprised of a long list of dates, tabulated unrelated events and complicated genealogical trees; when a lesson in geography meant committing to memory the fact that certain cities and towns are located on such and such rivers and are noted for the manufacture of this or that commodity, while nature study was little more than a list of plants and animals to be determined by sheer feat of memory the difference between a sepal and a petal and to differentiate between stamens and pistils, and who that is old enough to have lived in those days can forget the agonies that were undergone to try and remember; let alone understand, that the square on the hypotenuse of a right angled triangle is equal to the sum of the squares on the other two sides, when taught from a book full of geometrical designs studied with theorems and hypotheses.

Some Steps Forward

As indicated at the outset the science of education has moved forward considerably since those dark days and something has been done to make these and other subjects more alive and interesting and, therefore, more readily comprehensible and more easily assimilated than in the days of the youth of the present older generation.

While that is true no one would have the hardihood to say that the end of the road has been reached and that something more might not be done to remove the rocks from the path of learning.

The younger children largely live in a land of make-believe of their own devising and to some extent educational authorities have made use of this natural phenomenon to guide and develop their mentality through play acting.

As children develop they become more realistic and here again the wise psychologist has taken advantage of the trend to pattern studies on the tableaus vivants order with an eye to practicality, and the pedagogues who adopt this viewpoint will find results where the teacher who merely follows the prescribed routine will find his or her students trailing far behind.

An Interesting Experiment

Giving point to this doctrine, an interesting experiment was carried out in the Regina, Saskatchewan, high schools during the last two weeks in June this summer when a special program for grades nine and ten students, who had been promoted and could not be required to attend classes the last two weeks of the term while their less fortunate colleagues were writing examinations, was put into effect.

This program comprised visits to industrial plants in the city, where processes of manufacture were demonstrated and explained to the students; a visit to the Parliament Buildings where the students conducted a mock parliament with considerable credit to themselves and their teachers; visits to the natural history museum and other institutions where much first hand, concrete information was readily grasped, supplemented by educational films and other attractive media for the assimilation of useful and practical knowledge.

Contrary to expectation the students did not think they had been cheated out of a well-earned extra holiday, but responded eagerly to this special program in the devising of which they had played a part, demonstrating the truth of the assertion that children are willing and anxious to learn, provided interest can be aroused and sustained.

Should Not Stop

What the ultimate result of the experiment will be, it is difficult to forecast, but it will lead to the adoption of more of such methods in the day to day curriculum the year round.

What is being done in the larger city schools to stimulate interest can be done in the little red schoolhouses dotted all over the prairies on a smaller scale with revisions to suit local circumstances and conditions. The opportunity is there and it only requires adaptation on the part of the alert teacher with vision, to make education more realistic, more practical and more attractive with attendant greater and more enduring results.

Not Worth The Trouble

Englishman Who Risked Life To See Sultan's Harem Was Disappointed.

Among the many distinctions of Lord Mottistone—formerly Sir John Seely, Secretary for War, Under-Secretary for Air—who is 70, is that of being probably the only white man who ever saw the harem of Sultan Abdul Hamid and escaped alive. During a visit to Constantinople as a lad of 19 he was being shown round the Sultan's palace under guard of a huge soldier with a drawn scimitar, when he contrived to evade his guide, sped down a corridor, drew aside some curtains and gained a full view of Abdul's harem. It was very disappointing, he says, for all the women were fat and ugly—Glasgow Bulletin.

Although neighboring countries appear to have been ignorant of the drink, Abyssinians used coffee as early as the 15th century.

Waterproof was sometimes called white coal.

Highway First Aid Depots

Canada Slow In Establishing Them
States Red Cross Official

Canada's delegation to the Red Cross conference in London heard the Dominion is far behind Europe in the establishment of highway first aid stations and shared the committee's decision that stations should be established on rural highways at intervals of 10 miles.

The committee, headed by F. W. Roulley of Toronto, director of the Ontario Division of the Canadian Red Cross, admit Canada had not reached Europe's development of highway first aid which was valuable not only in treating victims, but in preventing accidents, because the Red Cross insignia on the roadside prompted cautious driving.

His Proudest Memory

Engineer For 31 Years Has Never Had An Accident

Billy Gilbertson of Carlisle, England, who drove the famous Royal Scott express train 11,000 miles across Canada and the United States in 1933, has made his last trip—at the throttle of a yard engine. He retired in May on his 65th birthday.

Gilbertson started his railway career on his 11th birthday as an engine cleaner and was paid six shillings ($1.50) a week. He became a fireman in 1892 and a driver in 1904. During the 34 years he drove he may express engines doubled in weight.

"When I started on the railway we still had some engines without cabs to protect engineers from the weather," he said. The engines had "only hand brakes to stop them—if you were lucky."

The veteran driver received the British Empire Medal for meritorious service on his return from North America with the Royal Scot.

That he was decorated and drove King George V. in 1932 between Carlisle and Crewe are not Gilbertson's proudest memories. The president is his safety record. He has never had an accident.

Savages Provide Idea

Expedition Seeks Head-Shrinking Fluid For Dental Use

A concoction—once used by South American savages to shrink and preserve human heads is being sought by a scientific expedition as an aid to modern dentistry.

Dr. Harry B. Wright, explorer, is heading the expedition into Ecuador to obtain samples of the liquid—known as chinchepe—which he said would be useful in stopping bleeding after a tooth extraction. Dr. Wright, a dentist himself, has made four expeditions into South America and has studied the fluid.

Since the government of Ecuador stopped the Jivaro Indians from using heads, they use chinchepe on monkeys and sloths as trophies of the hunt, he said.

"The procedure is the same," the explorer explained. "They remove the skin and boil it in the chinchepe, which is made from wild vines. The skin shrinks down to about a fourth to an eighth of the original size."

C. Wistler Wood, secretary of the General Alumni Society of Pennsylvania University, will accompany Dr. Wright.

A Charming Spot

Minaki On The Winnipeg River Noted

For Its Wild Beauty

Minaki is an Indian word which may be translated as "The Beautiful Country" and no other description could be so appropriate. About 114 miles east of Winnipeg and close to the boundary of the province of Manitoba, Minaki is a heavily forested country, watered by the Winnipeg river and its network of expansions and tributaries. Its wild beauty and the charm of sparkling streams, river and lakelets combine with climatic qualities to make an ideal summer playground. Of an altitude of nearly 1,700 feet above the sea level, its atmosphere is dry and invigorating and a tonic to tired and strained nerves. Hay fever is unknown.

Good Radio Reception

Decrease In Sunspots For Next Four Or Five Years

The world may expect a comparatively quiet period for radio reception and other communication during the coming four or five years, Dr. Harlan Station of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology predicted, for the number of sunspots is decreasing. Addressing the American Association for the Advancement of Science at its summer meeting in Ottawa, the Boston, Mass., astronomer declared the maximum intensity of activity on the sun was apparently reached in July, 1937.

The Smallest Ocean

The Mediterranean is the smallest ocean on the globe yet more famous in history than all others combined. A million square miles of warm, blue and peaceful seas with only one contributory river, the Nile. Sea of the ages, heroes of the Bible, of Greece and of Rome all knew it.

Outlaw Rulers

The Enormous Power Given To Individual Men

The most significant and most disturbing fact in these troubled times is the enormous power of individual men. The future welfare depends upon the will of three men who are despots.

This situation is not a new thing in the world, for kings of old were autocrats whose slightest whim was law; but one must go far back in history to find such rulers who made themselves great.

The kings of modern times were ordinary men, guided by their ministers. Moreover, they were restrained by certain codes of behavior and unwritten laws, for their first duty was to be gentlemen. And Christian gentlemen are not likely to be a menace to the world.

The new strong men are a different breed. They are not hampered by precedent or ethical standards or codes of morality. They never learned that certain things "simply aren't done" by gentlemen.

For they came up from the bottom, and they recognize no law but force and no rule but their own will. They are as ruthless, as cold-blooded and as conscience-free as any buccanner who sailed the Spanish Main. Men of their kind—strong, daring, domineering—have split throats and looted the earth since history began. They are the Genghis Khans, Tamerlans, Alexanders, Napoleons.—Robert Quillen in "The Fountain Inn Tribune."

Eider Ducks Resourceful

Use Suitable Materials For Nest Lining If Down Removed

In addition to providing a new source of revenue for the inhabitants of the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the eider-down industry is helping to build up the supply of wild ducks. The eider ducks produce the down on their bodies and place it in their nests as a soft, warm protection for their eggs. It has been discovered that the down can be taken from the nest, by the exercise of the care, without causing the duck to abandon incubation or interfering with the eventual hatching of the eggs. The duck replaces the down in the nest with leaves, straw, moss or other materials that answer the purpose.

Jean Lusier May Make Another Attempt In A Rubber Ball

Jean Lusier, who rode a rubber ball to fame over Niagara Falls in 1928, is thinking of trying it all over again.

But if he does, he said, it will be with exciting variations.

For one thing, he will go over the rocky American fall instead of the rushing Canadian horseshoe. And his rubber ball this time will be bigger than before, increasing in size like a huge soap bubble as it begins the 165-foot drop.

Lusier, once a salesman in Springfield, Mass., was set adrift in a rubber ball in the Niagara river above the falls at 3:05 p.m. July 4, 1928. The ball was six feet in diameter.

At 3:34 p.m. a hushed crowd saw the ball sucked over the brink of the Canadian horseshoe, to reappear a few moments later in the rapids below. At 4:03 p.m. Lusier crawled out of the ball, showing only one scratch as a souvenir of his experience.

Lusier says he has designed a ball eight feet in diameter. This would roll over the rocks toward the American fall, where the river is shallower. In falling, flaps on the side would spread out in a parachute effect.

Canada's First Oil Well

Plaque Unveiled Which Marks Site At Oil Springs, Ontario

The historic site and monument board of Canada, under the direction of Prof. Fred Landon, of the University of Western Ontario, unveiled July 1 at Oil Springs a memorial plaque to commemorate the first oil well in Canada.

In the earliest history of the locality of Oil Springs travellers observed the presence of oil, which they used for medicinal purposes. In 1858 James M. Williams dug the first well in Canada, later he established a refinery at Hamilton to manufacture illuminating oils. In 1861 John Shaw drilled deeper into the rock and struck the first flowing well, the location of which is on the south bank of Black Creek in Oil Springs. This well and the wells following were the biggest wells ever struck up to the present time in Canada.

Some of them had a flow of from 3,000 to 7,000 barrels per day. Finally these wells played out and the town became almost deserted. Then in 1885 and 1886 men drilled deeper again into the rock and discovered the wells which at the present time are still producing crude oil after 50 years.

Of 70,000,000 acres of land suitable for agricultural development in the province of Alberta, Canada, only 18,000,000 acres are actually cultivated.

Air Recruiting Campaign

Royal Air Force Has Asked For 31,650 Volunteers

Launching the greatest recruiting campaign ever undertaken by the Royal Air Force, Sir Kingsley Wood, secretary for air, has asked for 31,650 volunteers. Enrolment of the new flyers and technicians will begin at once.

Sir Kingsley called for 2,100 pilots, 550 observers, 26,000 specialized workers and 3,000 apprentices. The pilot recruits, who will have officer status, will be paid £340 ($1,700) the first year and £380 thereafter during a four-year enlistment. Upon entering the reserves for six years they will be paid bonuses running up to £300.

Candidates for these posts must be between the ages of 17 and 25 years and must have a good primary education.

A Good Story Spoiled

Item About Ink Being Filched From Banks Is Analyzed

Some newspaper stories on its rounds an item saying it cost Canadian banks $25,000 a year to keep up the ink supplies flicked by persons filling their fountain pens. Most people with workable fountain pens doubt if public ink such as banks or post offices use would tempt them to purloin that liquid. Beyond this altogether $25,000 would probably buy 75,000 gallons of ink. Of Canada's 10,000,000 people, probably less than 2,000,000 own fountain pens. Of this probably less than 1,000,000 ever find their way into a bank. Of these, five per cent would be a generous estimate of those filling bank ink. Fifty thousand people using 75,000 gallons of ink, figures 1 1/2 gallons of ink per flicker—a lot of ink for these days—Brandon Sun.

LONG DEBATE ENDS IN PASSING OF PRISON BILL

Ottawa.—Creation of a three-man commission to replace General D. M. Ormond, superintendent of penitentiaries, in the administration of Canada's penal system, was approved in record time by the House of Commons after hours of debate on the preliminary resolution. The bill was sent to the senate.

Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, said it was not proposed to make any changes in methods of administration until the new commission had taken office, and could find its assistants.

Establishment of the commission was recommended by the royal commission on penitentiaries which sat under chairmanship of Mr. Justice Joseph Archenbault of the Quebec superior court, and was one of numerous recommendations in the voluminous report. It is the only recommendation implemented in the bill.

Replying to a question from Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, the minister said no decision had been reached to act upon the commission's recommendation Alexander Patterson, an English prison commissioner, be brought to Canada to assist in reorganization.

From the time the resolution preceding the bill was moved Mr. Bennett staged a one-man blockade of the measure. He criticized the commission for its treatment of General Ormond, whose dismissal he recommended, and for its statements with respect to firing upon the cell occupied by Toronto Communist Tim Buck during the riot in Kingston penitentiary in 1932.

Mr. Bennett urged there was not sufficient time to study the report and properly pass upon legislation enacting its recommendations, in the dying hours of the session.

Mr. Lapointe's assurance the government sought only power to set up the commission, and that declaration he would not wish to have responsibility of administering the penal system unless the commission were established brought a change of stand from Mr. Bennett. He offered no further objections.

Palestine Jew Hanged

British Take Strong Measures To Maintain Order In Holy Land
Jerusalem.—British planes, police and troops patrolled Palestine, thrown into ominous tension because of the hanging of a Jew—without precedent during British rule of the Holy Land.

Chanting the song of the Revisionist party and dressed in uniform, 15-year-old Benjamin Joseph steadily walked to the gallows in the troop-surrounded prison at Acre.

He was the first Jew hanged in Palestine since the Turks hanged a Moroccan Jew Jerusalem's famed Jaffa gate in 1916. Joseph was condemned to death under the Holy Land's emergency military regulations after being convicted of ambushing an Arab bus last April.

Disorders broke out in several places, although most of them were minor and were suppressed by firm police measures.

Police clashed with crowds during two stormy demonstrations in the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv. Police fired into the air and then charged the crowd with batons in an effort to disperse it. Two constables, 10 demonstrators and two bystanders were injured.

The trouble spread to Tiberias, where a bomb was thrown in the midst of a Jewish wedding, wounding seven. Subsequently a mob, allegedly Arab, stoned Jews, but timely arrival of police prevented riots.

There were no casualties in the ambush of the bus for which Joseph was convicted, and the Jews assert the bus was not even struck by gunfire.

Effective In October

Wage-Hour Bill Has Been Signed By President Roosevelt

Washington.—President Roosevelt has signed the United States wage-hour bill, giving the "go-ahead" signal for a vast experiment in putting a "floor" under pay rates and a "ceiling" over hours. The signing, done without fanfare, was announced by White House officials.

The act will go into operation Oct. 24. On that date, officials said, some 200,000 persons receiving less than 25 cents an hour are to have their pay increased to 25 cents. Whether any court fight over the act will delay its operation has yet to be determined.

Spending Program

Says Pump-Priming In United States May Have Bad Effects

Ottawa.—America has already reached, or will reach late in 1933, the bottom of the present depression, Leonard P. Ayres, economist of the Cleveland Trust Company, told the American Association for the Advancement of Science here.

Characterizing the United States government's $3,753,000,000 spending program as "politically primed prosperity," Ayres admitted it will spur business activity and that "American resources are so great that they can support such a program for a long time to come."

However, he added, "this is a very serious condition, for in the long run the new system of political prosperity can be made to work well enough to destroy gradually the habits of self-help and enterprise on which a free society depends."

As the United States enters on its "second wave experiment in pump priming," he is well on the way toward the control of business "by persons whose principal occupation is not industry, finance, agriculture, or trade, but the winning of elections," he told the association's economics section.

Nevertheless, he said, business, after continuing its present slump through August, will probably pick up materially from September through December and on into 1933. Two major influencing factors will be the course of business abroad, which may restrict but not prevent recovery, and the growing crisis among American railroads.

Sound recovery in the United States and Canada will not get under way, he added, until the national income produced in the two countries stops shrinking, and it must be based on the production of such "durable" goods as building materials, machinery, automobiles, furniture, bridges, ships and locomotives.

B.C. Road Program

$2,200,000 Involved In Public Works For This Year

Victoria.—Details of British Columbia's $2,200,000 public works program for the year were announced by Works Minister F. M. MacPherson.

The work includes bituminous paving, highway construction projects, mining roads and trails, ferry replacements, grade separation works, playgrounds and other undertakings. The federal government will contribute to part of the program, including construction of a new $600,000 highway from New Westminster to the international boundary.

Approximately 280 miles of road in the province will be hard-surfaced under the program first announced by Premier Pattullo.

Check Use Of Revolvers

Registration Of Arms To Be Made Every Five Years

Ottawa.—A complete check-up on registration of revolvers and pistols in possession of Canadian citizens and residents will be made every five years, from March 1 to July, under an amendment to the criminal code passed in the House of Commons.

By this means the government hopes to maintain a more complete index of existence of small arms which may be transferred from one owner to another between the registration periods.

With this final amendment the 55-section bill designed to give the criminal code its annual overhaul and renovation was given third reading.

Calamity For South Africa

Foot-And-Mouth Disease Has Stopped Export Of Cattle

Durban, South Africa.—News-papers described as a "national calamity" an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease which threatens South African prosperity.

C. J. Venheerden, assistant director of veterinary services, told farmers it might be necessary to slaughter 500,000 head of cattle.

His added a crippling blow to the export trade with Great Britain might plunge the union into a serious economic crisis. Movement of agricultural products and sale for export have been prohibited throughout Natal.

Canadian Pilots Chosen

Montreal.—Two Canadian pilots have been chosen for Lincoln Ellsworth's air mapping expedition to the Antarctic, the Gazette says. The newspaper says the explorer has selected James H. (Red) Lyburner of Montreal, a member of the 1935 expedition, and Burton J. Terrie, a native of Amherst, N.S., who has been flying recently in Quebec.

Democracy Threatened

Decline Of Respect For Parliamentary Institutions

San Francisco.—Dangers facing present day democracy and formulas for world peace were presented by speakers before the International Kiwanis Club convention here.

World democracy was threatened "not only by the example and propaganda of totalitarian states, but by certain deep-seated tendencies in the democratic countries themselves," the convention was told in an address prepared by William F. Osborne, professor of French language and literature, at the University of Manitoba.

"Democracy is the key to civilization," he said. "The threat to countries that still practice freedom is caused by the decline of respect for parliamentary or representative institutions. 'Playing politics' in both national and international fields has bedeviled popular government."

He suggested altering the "political climate so politicians will be brought to see that sincerity, conviction and ability in working out the technique of democracy are imperative."

David Harris, Stanford University history professor, warned the next war's front line will be "in every factory, in every town and village within reach of an enemy aeroplane."

BRITAIN SEEKING FRANCO'S REPLY ABOUT BOMBINGS

London.—The House of Commons debated three questions related to British security—bombings of British ships by Spanish insurgent aircraft, the Official Secrets Act, and war office plans to strengthen anti-aircraft defences.

Attention was focused on Prime Minister Chamberlain's announcement Great Britain had again protested to General Franco of the Spanish insurgents against continued bombings of British ships in Spanish waters.

He later announced plans for immediate creation of a special parliamentary committee to investigate the Official Secrets Act and its application to members of parliament.

War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha announced plans to increase Britain's specialized anti-aircraft divisions to a strength of nearly 100,000 men. Present strength is 45,000. He said he also intended to create a special section of the imperial general staff responsible for anti-aircraft defence.

Mr. Chamberlain disclosed Britain had pressed for an immediate reply from Franco on the bombings protest. This would enable Sir Robert Hodgson, British agent at Burgos, to bring it back in person when he returns to London for conferences with government leaders.

The prime minister's statements on the protest followed reports circulating here that Franco had suggested establishment of Almeria as a neutral port to which British ships bound for loyalist Spain might go in safety.

Wheat Crop Abundant

Present Conditions Indicate Supply Will Greatly Exceed Demand

Rome.—The International Institute of Agriculture reported this year's world wheat crop probably would be sharply above the world's needs.

"The institute estimates that in the present state of things it would require an exceptional series of unfavorable circumstances for world wheat production not to be at least equal to that of last year, which was abundant," the institute said.

"It is very probable that countries normally producing more than their needs will have a strongly excessive exportable quantity, while the demands of importing countries, it appears, should not be much above the level of the closing period."

Will Command Destroyers

Naval Appointments For Canada's New Vessels Are Announced

Ottawa.—Appointments to Canada's two new destroyers, the Ottawa and Restigouche, which will reach Canada from England towards the end of July for service on the Pacific coast, were announced by the department of national defence.

Capt. V. G. Broderick is appointed to the Ottawa in command. Lieutenant-Commander W. B. L. Holmes is named to the Restigouche as executive officer.

The vessels were bought from the British navy by the Canadian government, bringing Canada's destroyer strength to six.

Edmonton.—The federal government's relief cheque for $250,000 reached the Alberta government. Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health and relief, stated the cheque covered the federal relief grants to Alberta for April and May.

Cattle Must Be Tested

United States Department Of Agriculture Issues New Order

Ottawa.—Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, announced that after June 30 all Canadian cattle exported to the United States, other than those for immediate slaughter, must be accompanied by a veterinarian's certificate showing they have been tested within 30 days of the date of shipment and found to be free of bovine tuberculosis and other contagious diseases.

The new order of the United States department of agriculture will not apply to cattle exported from accredited areas in Canada, areas in which incident of bovine tuberculosis has been reduced to one-half of one per cent.

Chief effect of the order is to render steers and spayed heifers subject to the same certification requirements as other classes of cattle.

Long Flight

Two Soviet Flyers Cover 4,300 Miles In Non-Stop Trip

Moscow.—Two Soviet flyers landed at Vladivostok after a 4,300-mile non-stop flight from Moscow to demonstrate the long-range possibilities of the Red army's aircraft.

The plane was piloted over sparsely-inhabited Siberia to the far eastern outpost in 24 hours by Major Vladimir Kokkinkin, veteran test pilot, aided by Navigator A. M. Bryandinsky.

Kokkinkin wrote in Pravda, official Red organ, that with the round trip distance between Moscow and Vladivostok, the ease with which Soviet planes could fly over foreign cities in time of war has been demonstrated, as well as the possibility of maintaining contact between Moscow and the far east.

WOULD MAKE WAR MUNITIONS IN RAILWAY SHOPS

Ottawa.—The national defence department has started a survey of Canadian National Railway shops to determine the availability and suitability for turning out munitions, tanks and other war supplies.

Announcement to this effect was made by Hon. Ian MacKenzie, minister of national defence, who received a deputation from Stratford where 200 workers at the C.N.R. shops have been laid off. Mr. MacKenzie said he would send inspectors to Stratford to look over the shops there.

Mr. MacKenzie said he does not wish to hold out false hopes for C.N.R. workers but if needed war supplies can be turned out in these shops they should be.

Defence department inspectors already have submitted reports on some Canadian National Railway shops and the Stratford situation will be looked into immediately.

The Canadian Press learns there are not enough Canadian orders in prospect to keep any considerable number of C.N.R. workers busy, even if the shops should be found suitable. But it is learned consideration is being given to the placing of possible arms orders from Great Britain with the shops of the nationally owned railway system. Mr. MacKenzie was silent on this possibility.

Mayor Thomas Henry headed the Stratford deputation that first saw Transport Minister C. D. Howe and Labor Minister Norman Rogers in regard to the lay-off there. The deputation's brief said:

"There is a growing sentiment in Canada, in our opinion, that the manufacture of military equipment and munitions of war should be in the hands of the Dominion government in larger degree than at present."

"It is our understanding, for example, that the department of national defence lacks an adequate supply of tanks. In our opinion, tanks could be produced efficiently in the C.N.R. shops at Stratford. Probably other equipment could also be made in railway shops and skilled workmen are at hand."

Mr. Howe and Mr. Rogers promised consideration and asked the deputation to see Mr. MacKenzie. He heard their proposal for the manufacture of the tanks and asked them to present a more detailed proposition to Lieut.-Col. L. R. LaFleche, deputy minister of national defence.

The deputation saw the deputy and defence department officials later. Mayor Gregory quoted Mr. MacKenzie and the defence officials as being of the opinion that "any works that came along and could be taken care of in the C.N.R. shops should be allotted to them." Mr. MacKenzie confirmed this.

ELECTION NEWS IS BANNED UNTIL POLLS ARE CLOSED

Ottawa.—Election in western Canada will go to the polls at the next general election in ignorance of the way the election is going in eastern Canada under a provision in the new Election and Franchise Act passed on third reading by the House of Commons.

The new law makes it an offence punishable with a fine not exceeding $500 or imprisonment for not more than one year or both for any person to publish or broadcast election results from any part of Canada in any province before the close of polls in that province.

The senate gave second reading to the measure, maintaining its historic attitude of not interfering with common elections legislation.

The amendment was the third of three alternative suggestions studied by the special elections committee with a view to preventing results in eastern Canada influencing voters in British Columbia and the prairie provinces because of the variation in time zones. There is a four-hour difference between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Hon. C. G. Power, minister of pensions, who was in charge of the bill, opposed this method first because he considered it impractical and secondly because it would be an infringement of the freedom of the press.

Despite the minister's opposition, the proposal, advanced by Hon. Hugh Stewart (Con., Leeds) carried by a vote of 54 to 37. This came after the house rejected the suggestion put forward by Mr. Power and the elections committee to stagger the voting hours across the country and another proposal by T. C. Douglas (C.C.F., Weyburn) that ballot boxes in the east be held unopened until all polls in the country were closed.

The clause adopted reads: "No person, company or corporation shall in any province, before the hour of closing of the poll in such province, publish the result of the polling in any electoral district in Canada, whether such publication is by radio broadcast, or by newspaper, news sheet, poster, billboard, handbill or in any other manner."

Party lines were broken on the question although most Conservatives favored the staggered hours of polling and all supported the ban on publication. Chief opposition to staggered hours came from Nova Scotia and British Columbia members. The members objected to results in their province open until 7 o'clock and the latter to polls closing at 5 o'clock, local time.

Reckless Driving

Motorist Losing Driver's Permit To Be Banned All Over Canada

Ottawa.—Any motorist who loses his driver's permit as a result of conviction for a traffic offence in one province will be barred from operating a motor car anywhere in Canada under a new amendment to the criminal code approved in the House of Commons.

The amendment was one of 50 odd presented to the house some time ago by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, and all passed through committee stage without opposition and with little discussion.

As the proposal was first introduced a person found guilty of driving a car while disqualified by reason of legal suspension or cancellation of his permit in any province would be liable to imprisonment for one month or a fine of $50 or to both. Mr. Lapointe proposed an increase in the penalty to six months or $500 and the change was approved.

The new section authorizes a judge to prohibit any persons convicted of certain offences in the code from driving anywhere in Canada for a period of three years and if he drives he becomes liable to the penalty provided for driving while disqualified.

Under the bill reckless driving is made an offence even if no accident occurs and no damage is done.

ABERHARTIAN SOLILOQUY

In one sense it is a pity the Edmonton Prophetic Conference with its politico-religious program will not be heard during the summer months. For some time it has been a source of inspiration to some, disgust to others, amusement to many. However, nothing is so wearisome as endless repetition of political fulminations; nothing so repellent as a blatant theology.

The valdetric address of the Alberta feuer last Sunday was typically Aberhartian, and a fitting climax to the Saskatchewan tour. Said he, "Rigid compulsion and high-minded interference are the factors that disintegrate. These factors constitute the basis of Nazism and Fascism." Fresh from his interference in the Saskatchewan elections and soundly rebuked at its polls for his compulsion of constituencies to run his hand-picked candidates, no one should know better than that Canadians reject this basis of Fascism or Nazism.

Equally refreshing was his declaration, "Let us be united as a federation, but let each province direct its own affairs within the orbit of its own sphere." In this, Mr. Aberhart makes two admissions. First, he admits Confederation exists and second, provinces have limited jurisdiction. Having admitted this, he must also admit the R.N.A. act defines the sphere of Federal and Provincial jurisdictions respectively. Mr. Hooke's and Mr. Kuhn's Social Credit ramblings notwithstanding. In view of Mr. Aberhart's belated belief that provinces should mind their own business, it is almost trite to remark that if Mr. Aberhart had earlier come to this conclusion, all the tomfoolery masquerading as Social Credit Legislation would never be on the Provincial Statute Books and would therefore never have become the subject of Federal disallowance. Premier MacKenzie King has ample grounds to support his contention that the Alberta legislation recently disallowed was not passed in good faith.—The Hanna Herald.

A suggestion has been made that the name "act" applied to many pieces of legislation added to the Alberta statutes by the Aberhart Social Credit government should be changed to "attack."

A newspaper, offering $1.00 each for "Embarrassing Moment" letters, received the following epistle: "I work on the night shift in a steel plant. I got home an hour early last night, and there I found another man with my wife. I was very much embarrassed. Please send me $2.00, as my wife was also embarrassed." The editor of the newspaper sent the contributor a cheque for $3.00, saying that perhaps the other man too may have been embarrassed.

The moratorium has certainly proven a wet blanket for Miss Alberta. Honest debtors and creditors are getting together and making mutually satisfactory adjustments of indebtedness, without the aid of any moratorium, while the crooked and deadbeats take advantage of Aberhart's freak legislation. Many a man and woman, who had an income that provided for their needs, have been reduced to absolute want, and still the Aberhart government is thinking of a general moratorium.—Drumheller Review.

Store Proprietor: "What have you got that hangage on your nose for?" Traveller: "Well, you told me never to show my nose in here again."

New provincial regulations, made necessary by certain changes in the titles of certificates, that training of second-class certificates is no longer being given, and that a summer session instead is required before a teaching certificate can be made permanent, has received the assent of the lieutenant-governor in council and is gazetted as in effect.

Schools closed Thursday last for the summer holidays; to reopen September 1st. Some of the local teachers have departed to various parts for their annual holiday, while a few plan on spending the holiday at home.

Ray A. Cannon, Calgary, who assumed office as Alberta State Deputy for the Knights of Columbus on July 1st, has announced the appointment of William J. Monaghan, past grand knight, of Edmonton, as district deputy for the northern part of the province, and Charles J. Thomas, of Calgary, as district deputy for the southern district.

If Mr. Aberhart undertakes the second time to turn out paper money, he should make sure to put something on the backside. However, the old scrip, or prosperity certificates reappear, thousands of them held as curios would naturally become worthless, and not worth the frame holding them at the present time.

It should cheer Mr. Aberhart to know that money is actually coming from pens. On the eve of its annual vacation period, the W. A. Shaeffer Pen Company at Fort Madison paid to all its employees a bonus of 7% per cent, based on each employee's earnings for the six months ended June 1st. But that's the only way to get it—work it out!

July 1st can usually be celebrated in the picking of the beautiful tiger lilies. And this year was no exception to the rule, for they never were so plentiful and beautiful. Many local district folk availed of the opportunity of going out on Friday or Sunday in the hope of getting them, and all were well rewarded for their venture.

TURNER-VALLEY FIELD STILL IN RED DESPITE ITS BIG PRODUCTION

Although the Turner Valley oil field produced $5,000,000 in crude oil last year, and in previous years has produced millions in gasoline, and perhaps, more money has been put into it than has ever been taken out. The fact is that it may be years before the field as a whole is out of the red.

Just now Turner Valley is the object of great interest, but many of the stories about it belong to the "liquid gold" myths relating to oil. These kind of myths continue through the years to be regarded as realities, despite all evidence to the contrary.

News of a new well comes out with stories that it has a daily flow of 1,000 barrels or more of oil, and people exclaim: "It must be nice to strike easy money like that." They forget that to get the well the producer had to spend $150,000 to $200,000 on a gamble, forgetting all about the wells which never come in. There are glamorous stories of fortunes won but not a word about those lost.

This condition does not just apply to the Turner oil field alone. It is true of most important fields in North America. A statistician has computed that since Drake drilled his first oil well in Pennsylvania in 1860, the average cost of finding and recovering a barrel of oil has been $141, although the average return to the producer has been only $121.

It is true that those who combine good luck and good judgment may make a fortune in oil. But the truth also is the oil industry as a whole is operating at a loss.

"Thou shalt love... thy neighbor as thyself." Luke 10:27.

A man bought a farm. Soon after, he met his nearest neighbor.

"Have you bought this place?" asked the neighbor.

"Yes."

"Well, you've bought a lawsuit."

"How is that?"

"Well, sir, I claim your fence down there is ten feet on my side of the line, and I am going to take the matter to court and prove it."

But the newcomer said, "Oh, no, don't do that. If the fence is on your side of the line, we will just take it up and move it."

"Do you mean that?"

"Of course I do," was the answer.

"Then," said the man, "that fence stays just where it is." Selected.

Several municipal tax sales have been held in Alberta of late, and not a bidder was found. Conditions have become so in the province during the past three years that people hesitate to take property even as a gift.

Who's going to pay for Unwin's holiday lecture tour of Ontario? Here's letting it doesn't come out of his own pocket or salary. And some of the poor poverty-stricken people of Alberta—the suckers, in other words—will find out to their grief where it's coming from. Ontario should hand him treatment just a wee bit more severe than Saskatchewan did.

Two of three pieces of Alberta's most recent legislation, the bill "to ensure publication of accurate news and information," and the bill "to amend and consolidate the credit of Alberta Regulation Act," have been dismissed by the Privy Council as "practical in no sense at all." Judgment has been reserved on the third measure, the bank act. On the former two, the judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada stands.

is proud of its record of having carried no less than 10,000,000 miners to work in the various coal collieries of Cape Breton without an accident to one of them during the last 20 years.

An escaped inmate of the mental asylum at Ponoka was shot dead by the keeper of the institution's poultry farm. He had hidden in an alfalfa stack with part of his head exposed to view. The poultry manager thought it was a skunk in the stack, got a gun and fired. He immediately reported the matter, and a coroner's inquest followed, rendering a verdict exonerating him of blame or negligence in the fatal shooting.

The Industrial East Spends over $40,000,000 with the Western Farmer each year

Any fellow who consumes over $40,000,000 worth of Western goods is worth knowing. And when you know him, you'll find he's a pretty good fellow — a worker and a family man like yourself, who likes to keep busy.

Your purchase of a Canadian-built car helps keep him busy and on a payroll. For Eastern automobile plants alone employ over 18,000 workers and in turn, spread employment — and purchasing power — over many other industries, including textiles, paints, glass, chemicals and steel.

Sure, it's a good thing to know that the Eastern industrial worker is busy and happy and in a position to maintain and augment his purchases which in 1936 alone included over 80,000 tons of fresh dressed meats, 175,705 head of cattle, 21,144 calves and 41,557 hogs to say nothing of 10,000 tons of butter and poultry, eggs, honey, grain products and other commodities to the value of more than $15,000,000.

How Does Life Insurance Benefit The Farmer's Wife and Children?

Answer.—If the farmer has Life Insurance, the wife and children know that they will not be in want in case of his death.

Question.—How would insurance help?

Answer.—It would provide money for living expenses, to pay debts, meet mortgage payments, hire help, avoid sale of the farm at a sacrifice.

Q.—Couldn't this be done through ordinary savings?

A.—Usually a farmer leaves only a small amount of cash. Nor can he be sure to live long enough to save an adequate sum. Only through Life Insurance can he, with a minimum of saving each year, have the necessary money available in case of death.

Q.—How do the children benefit?

A.—The father who has Life Insurance is sure that the children will have the home, care and education that he intended.

Q.—How does Life Insurance benefit the farmer himself?

—If he lives to a retiring age, his insurance will provide a cash income to care for him.

General Skookumchuckio also came very near being placed under the railroad track as a sleeper when he walked up the track from Claresholm and met Charlie Morland, at which time the general passed some crude remarks about the English people. IF YOU WERE BUSY

If you were busy being kind Before you knew it you would find You'd soon forget to think 'twas true That someone was unkind to you.

If you were busy being glad And cheering people who are sad, Although your heart might ache a bit, You'd soon forget to notice it.

If you were busy being good, And doing just the best you could, You'd not have time to blame some man Who's doing just the best he can.

If you were busy being true To what you know you ought to do, You'd be so busy you'd forget The blunders of the folks you've met.

If you were busy being right, You'd find yourself too busy, quite, To criticize your neighbor long Because he's busy doing wrong.

A Paying Occupation

New York Beggars Collect About Fifty Thousand Dollars Daily

Does begging pay? Emphatically it does, states James Finan, in the "Forum." The professional beggar's "take," in authenticated cases, has reached $50 a day.

A 22-year-old beggar, arrested for scratching the arm of a restaurant hostess when she refused to let him solicit from table to table, was found to own a home in Riverside, Rhode Island, and a $4,500 bank balance. He claimed that the income from begging in the Eastern seaboard cities had dropped, during the recession, from $65 to $12 or even $10 per day.

Fifty thousand dollars per day is the estimated haul by beggars in New York City alone. Most of this is picked up by individuals, operating on their own. But signs of syndicated management appear.

A man in the Bronx, arrested recently, turned out to be a pan-handling overlord. Each morning he delivered his beggars to "work" in his car. He called for them at night and collected their money; then he lodged and fed them, and piled them with cheap liquor to keep up their morale.

For Quick Results

Holland Gardeners Germinate All Their Seeds Before Planting

Interesting customs of the enterprising Dutch gardeners might be followed by gardeners elsewhere who wish to speed germination of seeds.

According to a plant breeder who came to this country from the Netherlands, the Hollanders place seeds in a cloth bag and hang the bag in a nearby canal overnight. The bag is taken out and hung for 48 hours in the cow barn, where it is warm. By this time the seed has sprouted and it is broadcast by hand in the garden plot.

Gardeners need not, of course, hunt up a canal or build a cow barn, but they may hang the seeds over-night in any water-filled container, then place the bag in a warmer place for two days and nights. This practice is especially recommended for beets, carrots and spinach seed.

Showed His Gratitude

A hitch-hiker, about 70 years of age, handed Mrs. Barney Carey and her daughter Ruth each a $1,000 cheque after he had eaten a free meal at their service station lunchroom near Warsaw, Indiana. The cheques were signed "John S. Smith" and were drawn on a New York bank.

Defending Democracy

Preserving That Delicate Compromise Which We Call Civilization

(From an address given at Yale University by Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, upon receipt by him of an Honorary Degree.)

"I am not going to repeat the ordinary platitudes about how close and nearly related the Americas are and what good friends they ought to be. I believe profoundly in their friendship, but don't let's be too self-conscious about it. Don't let's be always pulling up the plants to see how the roots are getting on."

"In my view the best way for Britons and Americans to understand each other is not by analyzing their emotions but by doing things together. Especially I recommend what I have been doing this last week-end, going fishing together."

"I would like to say one thing to you to-day and to say it with all the force of a confession of faith. You will hear people repeat here and across the Atlantic that our young men are not up to their fathers' standards, that they haven't the old enterprise, the old pioneering spirit, the old keenness about adventure. I believe that to be wholly untrue. I believe that our youth was never better, at least the youth I know in Britain, in Canada and in the United States."

"It is a platitude to say that we live in a difficult world. As I see it, the world to-day is a contest between the spirit of meriment and kindness, as represented by my distinguished fellow-graduate, Walter Plenny, and these dismal people in Europe who preach and enforce what they call ideologies."

"But, gentlemen, it is also a very exciting world. A Yale graduate who goes into an ordinary business or profession has to take part in preserving that delicate compromise which we call civilization, in the face of many destructive forces. He has to show that the patient methods of democracy are more efficient than any authoritarian regime."

"Democracy which a few years ago was a platitude is now, a cause, a crusade, an adventure. And if the Yale graduate gives his life to the pursuit of some kind of knowledge, public value, but he is giving himself to a life of perpetual adventure. He never knows what small side track of his researches may end in an epoch-making discovery."

"Yes, gentlemen, I think we can tell our young men that they have got a more difficult task before them than their fathers, that they are called to a harder test and a graver responsibility, but that they have wider horizon to travel to and a greater opportunity to prove the virtue that is in them."

For Interest in Arts

Albert Medal For 1938 Has Been Given To Queen Mary

The council of the Royal Society of Arts has awarded the Albert Medal for 1938 to Queen Mary "in recognition of Her Majesty's unremitting interest in arts and manufactures to the great benefit of industry and commerce."

Examples of Queen Mary's interest in art are the prominent part which she played in connection with the British Industries Fair and the careful attention she gives year by year to the individual exhibits at the fair.

The Albert Medal has also been awarded to Queen Victoria, King Edward VII, King George V, the Duke of Windsor and the Duke of Connaught.

The Red Cross And Resuscitation

Specialized Knowledge Regarding Proper Methods To Be Followed

An integral part of Red Cross Home Nursing Course, the Schaefer Method of Resuscitation from drowning, gas poisoning and electric shock, has been demonstrated by the Red Cross to approximately 50,000 Canadian women and to thousands of High School students.

The Red Cross Home Nursing Course was initiated in 1924 to meet an insistent demand from women in all walks of life for specialized knowledge regarding the fundamentals of nursing science and the proper procedures to be followed in meeting emergencies.

Drowning being one of the major emergencies which might face any family, the Red Cross designed its Home Nursing Course so as to stress the importance of resuscitation and to familiarize every student with the Schaefer Method. This method is first demonstrated by a doctor or graduate nurse and, under their guidance, the students are then given actual practice in the method of procedure.

In addition, the Red Cross Home Nursing Manual, which is now in the emergency libraries of thousands of students, contains pictures and explicit instructions to be followed in case of drowning.

Many letters have been received from past students of the Red Cross, expressing gratitude for this knowledge and, in a number of cases, describing how they had already used it in the saving of life.

A Chaotic World

Lord Tweedsmuir Sees Civilization In Grave Peril

Lord Tweedsmuir, governor-general of Canada, declaring that men to-day lived in a "distressed and chaotic world," with civilization in "grave peril," commended to a Harvard University audience an attitude of "conservative, Christian anarchism."

Recipient of an honorary degree at Harvard's 27th commencement, he addressed the annual meeting of the Harvard Annual Association. "Conservatism," he added, "means that we want to preserve what is still vital in our heritage from the past. Anarchism means that we are resolute to clear away rubbish, whether new or old."

"We need a deepened respect for human nature. It is our business to fight whatever, for the sake of a narrow theory, would cramp and enslave human nature."

Humor was "the best weapon with which to fight pedantry and vain glory and false rhetoric."

In a time like the present, "when the ties of religion have been sadly relaxed, there is a tendency for popular leaders to exalt themselves into a kind of bogus deity and to think their shallow credos a divine revelation."

"The answer to all that sort of folly is laughter."

Account For Many Claims

United States Insurance Companies Pay Billions For Bathing Accidents

Bathbaths are the cause of so many accidents that since 1929 insurance companies have paid more money in claims resulting from such accidents than the government has spent on relief. The accidents have cost insurance companies nearly $20,000,000 in death claims and loans. SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JULY 10

CALEB: LIFE-TIME DEVOTION

Golden text: Let us go up at once, and possess it; for we are well able to overcome it. Numbers 13:30. Lesson: Numbers 13:26-33; Joshua 14:6-15. Devotional reading: Psalm 121.

Explanations And Comments

The Division of Canaan, Joshua 14:1-5. The division of the land of Canaan among the tribes of Israel was made by lot, which was carried out by Eleazar, Joshua, and one representative from each of the tribes. Numbers 34:16-29.

Caleb's Special Claim, Joshua 14:6-15. Caleb, surrounded by Joshua that when the twelve men were sent from Kadesh-barnea to spy out the land of Canaan, only he and Joshua had brought back a good report and urged the going in immediately to possess it. To that record of courage he added that he had wholly followed Jehovah. Read Numbers 13:17-33.

The other ten spies had discouraged the people, Caleb added; they had "made the heart of the people to melt," had made them too craven-hearted for the task before them. Moses had promised him that day that he and his children after him should have a special allotment of land because of his loyalty. All this happened 45 years before this, and Caleb was now 85 years of age. He and Joshua were the only ones still living of all the host who had left Egypt.

Caleb's faith in the Lord was of itself invigorating and life-giving. It tended to longevity. The promise to Caleb that he should enter into the Promised Land while the scouts who doubted should not be allowed to pass over Jordan was not an arbitrary promise. The man who can go scouting into the Promised Land and come back with a favorable report, his companions are in despair is just the man who will come out of 45 years of hardship stronger than when he entered. The Lord has faithful faith in himself with a certain kind of spiritual nutriment which feeds and builds up the man. This is the teaching enforced and re-enforced throughout all these chapters of Joshua, and this is the enforcement of this lesson which led to the writing of the books. The Israelites' days of the conquest led from within. They did the will of the Lord, and their faith in him kept them strong.

Joshua 14:6-15. Caleb an official blessing before the rest of the tribe of Judah, his nephew Hebron and his surrounding district.

Lack Of Restraint

Young People Of To-day Unwilling To Submit To Older Conventions

D. G. McCallagh of the department of social science at Toronto University, declared at Vancouver that young people of to-day are unwilling to submit to the older conventions.

Speaking before the sixth Canadian conference on social work, Mr. McCallagh quoted the words of Peter the Hermit in the eleventh century:

"Young people of to-day think of nothing but themselves. They have no reverence for their parents or old age. They are impatient of all restraint. What passes for wisdom with us is foolishness with them."

The speaker said, showed that adult attitude toward youth had changed little over the centuries.

"Many sociologists tend to believe the family is an outmoded institution, of which fact the increasing selfishness and revolt against conventional marriage are only symptoms," he said.

"They hold that mankind has passed through two stages, the clan and the family, and now entering the third—the individual."

The most obvious evidence of family disorganization, Mr. McCallagh said, was found in the increase of divorces.

Alan Forrester Joined Force Shortly After Riot Rebellion

Alan Forrester, who crossed the prairies ahead of steel as a member of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, died at Nelson, B.C., aged 72.

A Great War veteran and one of the earliest members of the British Columbia police, he joined the Mounties in Regina shortly after the Riel rebellion, for which he enlisted but saw no active service. During his 10 years in the force he rose to be its youngest sergeant.

Inevitably Allies

United States Will Be Found In Defense Of Principles Of Democracy

The average American may not define in words the loyalties he shares with certain other people. But in the democracies of Europe—in the little democracies in the danger zones; in the more fortunate democracies of Scandinavia; above all, in the great democracies of France and Britain—the average American finds a way of life which he knows instinctively to be the way of life which he himself has chosen.

He knows that these democracies are the outposts of our own kind of civilization, of the democratic system, of the progress we have achieved through the methods of self-government and of the progress we still hope to make tomorrow. He knows that if these outposts are overrun by dictatorships of either Right or Left we shall find ourselves deprived of friends. He knows that, despite geographical remoteness and a traditional desire to avoid entanglement in other peoples' quarrels, we are inevitably the natural allies of the democracies of Europe.

It is important, that the statesmen of aggressor countries should realize that to-day, no less than in 1917, there are specific and vital American interests in all parts of the world which it would almost certainly be affected by war on a large scale. It is important that they should realize the real depth of American loyalty to the whole set of principles and methods and traditions which goes by the name of democracy.

No remoteness from the scene of a potential European conflict can isolate the United States from the consequences of a major war. No Neutrality Act can prevent the American people from favoring their natural allies. In any ultimate test of strength between democracy and dictatorship, the good-will and the moral support—and in the long run more likely than not the physical power of the United States—will be found on the side of those nations defending a way of life which is our own way of life and the only way of life which Americans believe to be worth living—New York Times.

Made Dream Come True

Lame Man Has Lawn Mower Operated By Remote Control

A lawn mower that operates by remote control while the operator sits in the shade of a tree is the dream that Alvin Lodge, of Millersville, Pennsylvania, has made come true.

The remote control was a necessity with Lodge. Too lame to do his grass cutting in the ordinary way, Lodge installed two motors on the usual type lawn mower from which the handle had been removed. Three wires run from the machine to a chair in the shade, thus enabling the operator to apply power to either wheel and make the turns.

A paint can fastened to the mower acts as a spool around which the wire winds and unwinds to prevent tangling. Ordinary house current operates the motors.
